WORKSHEET

Find your own style!

Your interior design style is the style you are happy to live with. You may like more styles. How do you funnel all those sources to get to the core? Some help with inspiration and style keywords.

INSPIRATION

Choose your source of inspiration. If there are more: are there similarities? Can you make a combination? Like Californian Mid-Century. What inspires you the most?
The Architecture The architecture of your home or the buildings in your neighborhood can inspire you for the style inside your home. Think of Bauhaus or Art Deco or just the opposite Brutalism.	The place where you live. Personally, I really like it when the place where you live resonates in your interior. Lots of green outside, green inside, historical elements outside, historical elements inside.	Countries or regions (Travel) Travelling can inspire you, a change of location, a new culture to discover, nothing more inspirational. You do not always need to go there because pictures of a certain country or region can have the same effect.
Way of Living Your way of living can inspire you for the way you want to decorate your home. Like an artwork you love can be the inspiration for the colors in a room. If you want to entertain a lot of people, on long tables a restaurant can be your source of inspiration.	Trends Trends show us a general direction in which our interior is developing or changing. Every year you can find lists with the latest trends. More eco-friendly, the use of organic forms and natural elements. Use what appeals to you, new colors, new materials, or textures.	Cultural/Regional/Gender Cultural influences like traditional elements, motifs, color palettes, symbols, craftsmanship and functionality can bring inspiration into interior design. Regional climates can impact your design choice and local materials can have a similar effect., just like gender influences.
Comfort and Style Comfort and style are fundamental aspects of interior design, each playing a crucial role in creating spaces that are not only visually appealing but also functional and welcoming. A well styled space integrates functionality.	Media Magazines, movies, social media, and stylists are rich sources of inspiration. Especially because they show us a diverse range of aesthetics, by providing ideas, trends, and creative approaches that can help you to create your own personal style!	Which sources of inspiration are important for you? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. 2. 3.
